Dear Dr.Pallouras

the Berlin Foundation for Dermatology (BFD) includes in its policy the support of promising young colleagues who wish to come to Germany for a limited time of continuing education on a specific clinical topic, or for entering experimental skin research. For further information please see www.stiftung-dermatologie.de .

Based on our recent discussions and for contributing to the CSDV's efforts to provide continuous education opportunities to its members a cooperation between CSDV and BFD on this field may be considered: The CSDV could select every 1-2 years a candidate and propose him/her, including his/her curriculum and any other relevant information, to the BSD for approval.

The candidate accepted would receive a grant for a Fellowship in a prominent Dept. of Dermatology in Germany amounting 1000.-€ per month over a period of 6 months (-1 year) and cover his travel expenses.

Let me know whether this proposal finds the approval of your Board.

Best regards,

Prof.Dr.Dr.h.c.C.E.Orfanos
Managing Director
